Hello, My Amazing “Unleash Your Calling” Retreat Participant!

I’m so excited to meet you, or reconnect with you, and share this intentional space of discovering what inspires us--- and how to bring it into our lives and the world.

Please bring a journal or notebook, something to write on. (I’m thinking you’re going to have some great insights!

Also, please bring any special images or materials you’d want to use to create a Vision Board/Collage – perhaps a stack of old magazines, if you can? – and a pair of scissors.

Most of all please bring your intention to listen to and honor the truth of your heart, your deepest intelligence, and the source of clear direction. Your heart holds your knowing. Congratulations, courageous one. You are about to open to yourself, and your life in a more passionate, purposeful way. Your retreat has already begun. Pay loving attention to everything that happens between now and the time we meet. Welcome!!

With love and blessings,
