Omega Institute to Host Neale Donald Walsch

Author of New York Times Best-selling Conversations With God to Lead Workshop on Finding Happiness

RHINEBECK, NY – Omega is proud to announce that Neale Donald Walsch will teach Happiness at Last, a weekend workshop, June 13–15, 2008, on Omega’s Rhinebeck campus. Walsch, a renowned spiritual teacher and author, will guide participants in his 17-step process to finding greater happiness. The workshop comes on the heels of Walsch’s most recent book, Happier Than God.

“For more than 30 years Omega has been at the forefront of wellness, personal growth, and spirituality. Personal change is essential for social change, and how we define and find happiness as individuals directly affects society,” said Carla Goldstein, Director of External Affairs at Omega. “Neale Donald Walsch has inspired millions to make positive changes in their lives and the lives around them. We are honored to have him on our campus,” concluded Goldstein.

Throughout the weekend workshop, Walsch will go beyond spiritual theory to provide a practical plan that can change one’s life. His 17-step process combines the best of the conceptual truths of his Conversations With God series with a clear description of how to turn those concepts into practical tools for altering life for the better.

Neale Donald Walsch is a teacher and author of more than 25 books. His New York Times best-selling book, Conversations With God, is now published in 37 languages. He is founder of the Conversations With God Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring the world to help itself move from violence to peace, from confusion to clarity, and from anger to love. nealedonaldwalsch.com
