Omega's Scholarship Fund Grows to Create Record Access: Scholarships Now Available for 1-in-5 Workshops

Omega to Award More Than $400,000 in Scholarship Opportunities for 2017 Programs

RHINEBECK, NY – Omega Institute for Holistic Studies, a nonprofit organization dedicated to lifelong learning, announced today that more than $400,000 will be awarded in full and partial scholarships to eligible applicants for more than 80 workshops taking place on their Hudson Valley campus in 2017. Veterans, educators, those living with cancer, and women leaders are among the eligible candidates.

“Omega is committed to expanding pathways to participation through our scholarship fund,” said Carla Goldstein, chief external affairs officer at Omega. “We know that our learning environment and the campus experience is enriched when a wide variety of perspectives, backgrounds, and identities are represented.”

Omega welcomes more than 23,000 visitors to its Rhinebeck campus annually between May and October. People come for reasons big and small—from professional training to rest and rejuvenation to catalyzing personal growth and social change. Omega will offer a total of 390 workshops in 2017 spanning six learning paths: Body, Mind & Spirit; Health & Healing; Leadership & Work; Relationships & Family; Creative Expression; and Sustainable Living.
