

Coaching for Transformation Certification Training Scholarship Application

We strive to keep our programs accessible. Even with competitive rates, many people require financial assistance to attend. Our students often come from underserved regions and communities, and have the potential and drive to achieve great impact in those communities and beyond.

With that in mind, please thoughtfully consider your financial assistance request and ask only for what you need. Your mindful request allows us to serve those with the greatest financial need in our global community and to develop a diverse student body that enriches the learning experience for all. We offer a limited number of partial scholarships based on a) financial need b) potential to reach diverse communities and c) impact.

Please answer the following questions as succinctly as possible (1-2 pages):

- a) Describe your financial situation and any special circumstances in relation to the information you provided above. Indicate other sources of funding you have explored (employer subsidy, sponsors, personal loans, gifts from family or friends, credit card, grant, etc.).

- b) What potential do you have to reach under-represented communities, i.e. self-identified people of color, LGBTQ, youth, geographic areas without many coaches, etc.? Describe your experience serving/working with diverse communities or developing nations. How would you describe your cultural competency (multicultural sensitivity, awareness of privilege, social change activity and initiatives, multilingual skills)?

- c) What is your potential impact? How will you make a difference in the world through coaching? Describe any experience in social change, facilitation, training, teaching or a helping profession (counselor, coach, therapist). Please share your goals and specific examples.

- d) A 5-payment installment plan is available, with a deposit at registration plus 4 additional payments (credit card only). Will you pay in installments?
